A FABULOUS DISCOVERY, Worth Millions to the Human Family-Celery as a Cure. The habitual daily use of this vegetable is nuch more beneficial to man than most people magine. The writer, who is familiar with its rirtues, is acquainted with many men and women who from various causes have become women who from various causes have become so much affected by nervousness that when they stretched out their hands they shook like aspen leaves, but by a moderate use of celery they became as strong in nerve as other people. We have known others to be cured of palpitation of the heart. To this we may add that we received of Dr. Henley, of Portland, Oregon, a bottle of "Celery, Beef and Iron." By close analysis we state the preparation called Celery, Beef and Iron is what it is represented to be, absolutely pure, and every one engaged in labor weakening to the nerves should use "Celery, Beef and Iron." We find also according to the formula received, each bottle is composed of Liebig's extract of beef, extract of celery, and pyrophosphate of iron with condensed wine. These combined we pronounce the best known remedy for any disorder of the nerves or neuralgia. The most delicate nerves, even of birds, we give disorder of the nerves or neuralgia. The most delicate nerves, even of birds, we give celery, how much better will it subserve the wants of the human family?—Prf. B. H. Openheigen in Journal of Chemistry.

management of the suits by the Attorney-General no opinion is given. The condition of the suits is believed to be such as to insure a hearing of the question involved before the Supreme Court. The status of the suits has been altered by the Attorney-General since the stipulation was first made, by procuring a bill of exceptions to be settled and filed, and also by procuring another stipulation. The report is signed by Terry, Johnston, Nicol, Caminetti, Booth, Ryan and Wharton.

In the private parts are per ton per mile on freight for long distances than for short distances—Messrs. Reddy, Lynch, Spencer of Stanislaus, and Sulli-say spoke against it, and Messrs, Cross, Filcher, Langford and Knight in its favor.

Taylor (author of the amendment) addressed the Senate in its favor. He called at tention to the fact that the bill, in its original form, was called one to prohibit discrimination on the part of railroads, but in its very first section it declares that there may be discrimination in certain cases, "as therein provided." The bill had come to the Senate as an inspired document—the product of the brain of one whose shoes, it would appear, no Senator on the floor was fit to lace—but it was a contradiction on its very face. The Senator made a strong appeal in support of his amendment providing that a lesser rate for freight per ton per mile as he but a few produce religing at a distance of several hundred miles from market, or tide water, being charged the same rate per ton per mile as he but a few which a debt is secured, shall not be increased beyond the amount of unpaid princigation by which a debt is secured, shall not be increased beyond the amount of unpaid princigation by which a debt is secured, shall not be increased beyond the amount of unpaid princigation by which a debt is secured. Shall not be increased beyond the amount of unpaid princigation by which a debt is secured. Shall not be discrimination of the surface of Equalization, whether State or county."

miles from market, or tide water, being charged the same rate per ton per mile as he but a few miles distant therefrom. Under such a system, the producers of Shasta and contiguous counties could not compete with those in the central counties. The Barry bill, unamended in this particular, would, if a law, virtually shut out the farmers of his district from market. He felt that he would be recreant to his trust did he not raise his voice in the Senate chamber in support of a provision in the law that would deal justly with his constituents and save them from that ostracism which the original Barry bill would infliet upon them. He combatted the argument that his amendment was in conflict with the Constitution, and clearly showed that it was in perfect harmony therewith. The Constitution says there shall be evaluated to the control of the pasage of Assemblymen who are in favor of the pas ents and save them from that ostracism which the original Barry bill would inflict upon them. He combatted the argument that his amendment was in conflict with the Constitution, and clearly showed that it was in perfect harmony therewith. The Constitution says there shall be no discrimination between shippers, and his proposed amendment simply made that declaration stronger and more definite. It does not permit discrimination as between persons, but re-enacts an old and well-established law of trade and commerce by allowing transportation companies to use such discretion in the management of their business as would have a tendency toward building up remote sections and developing their resources. It had been said by a Senator that God had Himself given some forty-five members answe names. Assemblyman Johnston of Napa, in his speech yesterday demanded a roll-call, using the following language: "Mr. Speaker, I want the members of this House who do not believe in property being assessed at its cash value, to go on record." The roll was called and they answered to their names as follows: Atwell, Barry, Beard, Bibb, Breckinridge, Briceland, Brown, Callaghan, Caminetti, Campbell, Carter, Coombs, Crumpton, Doty, Farley, Field, Fleming, Fortna, Gaussail, Granger, Heath, Hershey, Hunter, Irwin, Kerrick, Matthews, McClaskey, McDonald, McHale, Parker, Peterson, Plover, Reeves, Riehl, Ryan, Sinon, Storke, Townsend, Wallace, Wheat, Mr. Speaker—41.

The people about the Capitol yesterday commight seem to be its mistakes. For his part, he could see no force in such an argument. It was clearly within the purview of the Constitution to allow such discrimination between near and remote points, and it would certainly be in the interest of the people of the State at large, and of remote sections, to allow transportation companies to extend their usefulness beyond the narrow limits of a few counties about the bay. The principle which his amendment sought to affirm and incorporate in the law was the only correct one, as must be admitted by all fairminded persons. He hoped the Senate would view the matter in the proper light, and approve the amendment proposed.

After some further discussion the roll was called on the previous question, with the following result: ing result:

The people about the Capitol yesterday commented freely about the lack of respect shown by a San Francisco radical anti-railroad journal, which, in its Saturday issue, was so plain-spoken about George Hearst, one of the "four-fathers" of the present extraordinary session (Hearst, Delmas, Wallace and Greathouse being responsible for the strange production), as to say this of him: "In common with everybody else, we had heard of Uncle George Hearst, but never had the honor of beholding him until last Saturday night, at the wretched failure of a mass meeting at Union Hall. After Mr. Delmas had ended a two-hour speech on the question of the relations of corporations to the State, Mr. Hearst came forward to show himself. It was a ridiculous exhibition. The old gentleman, hungering to be a Senator, finds it necessary to demonstrate that he is interested in public affairs. So he stood up in the place vacated by the trained lawyer, whose business it is to think and talk, and the background of Mr. Delmas speech emphasized the fact that Mr. Hearst can neither think nor talk. It was painful, as well as funny, to see this amiable old man floundering about helplessly, all tangled in his broken sentences and little scraps of ideas. A sterile mind, a squeaky voice and awkward manners are surely a poor equipment for a United States the first time. The soon became apparent that the two-thirds tained on any proposition not acceptable to From two-thirds the extremists came down to a bare majority Legislature was invited to legislate upon. Members of the Legislature who were re lied upon to vote blindly as the Hearst lique dictated have examined matters for themselves. They have had the courage to brave the lash in the service of the people. They discovered that the popular feeling so nuch harped upon existed only in the imaginations of persons having private axes to grind. A few schemers thought to ride o office on an anti-railroad furore. But whenever the people have been called upon o assemble in mass meetings and give their self-appointed leaders a little strength, they private citizens in favor of that call will be admitted, but such constitute a small mi nority. The Legislature, broken as it is, without doubt stronger in its anti-railroad sentiment than the people. The half-score f self-appointed leaders have received a rebuke that will doubtless serve as a lesson. Leaders cannot appoint themselves. SACRAMENTO, June 14, 1883.

J. P. SARSFIELD—DEAR SIR: Having been afflicted thirty-three years with fever sores, and having tried many kinds of remedies and treatment without avail, my attention was called to the many known cures produced by your Chronic Ulcer Salve and Blood Remedy. The physicians of this city would not undertake my cure unless I would submit to a surgical operacure unless I would submit to a surgical opera-tion on my shin bone, which was considerably diseased. I objected to this kind of treatment and commenced using your Chronic Ulcer Salv-and Blood Remedy, which effected a permanen cure in forty days. At the commencement of cure in forty days. At the commencement of treatment with your remedies, I was unable to perform more than two days' work in each weel and it was with great difficulty that I coul get up and down stairs. After four weeks treatment I was able to work all the time I am now entirely cured of my fever sor and regaining my health and strength daily The lower part of my leg, between the knee an foot, was completely honeycombed by thes sores. It is but a faint expression of gratitud that I herewith bear testimony to the efficience that I herewith bear testimony to the efficier of your most invaluable Chronic Uleer Sa and Blood Remedy. Your remedies are an estimable gift to the human race, and sta: Gratefully yours, WM, S. DOAN, DOMESTIC NEWS.

The Iowa Horror-Blood-Curdling Con-DES MOINES, April 28th.—The State Register's Adubon special says: The murderers of old man Jellerson Saturday morning have been captured, and are John A. Smith and Joel J. Wilson, his sons-in-law, and Cicero Jellerson, a son of the murdered man. All three are now in jail at Audubon. At 10 o'clock this morning they were brought up for examination, and Willson and Smith waived the same, and were remanded until Wednesday night; but Cicero became conscience-stricken, and asked leave to make a statement under oath. He then proceeded to make a full confession regarding the murder, and told how he and the other two men who are under arrest left him on horseback, went to his father's house, tied their horses, broke into the house, took the old man from his bed, tore off his shirt, put a rope around his neck, dragged him on his back over the ground to the woods to a tree, and there hanged him, Wilson lifting up the body while the other rulled on the rose. They then weepend the fession.

They were arrested at home. The people are thoroughly aroused. Justice will be meted out, and no technicalities of the law will go down with the citizens. Everything is quiet to-night, but no one can tell when more news will be forthcoming.

Proposed Sale of Cuba to Mexico.

New York, April 28th.—The Star pretends to know that private negotiations have been going on the past week to sell Cuba to Mexico. The proposition came from Spain. After consulting the Cabinent, Minister Diaz returned an answer that he would be satisfied to purchase Cuba on condition that the Cubans should agree by a plebiseite vote that Mexican bonds be given Spain in lieu of the purchase money. Spain demands that the United States become security for Mexico, and the performance of the contract. "The story is in the main correct," said Cubera, editor of El Separatista, "and Foster, United States Minister at Madrid, is now in Washington, to see if the Government will be satisfied with the arrangement." Shocking Outrage in Connecticut. Shocking Outrage in Connecticut.

New Haven, April 28th.—The Coroner of Windham county is now investigating a remarkable and most scandalous piece of persecution and death by fright of a respectable colored man named Wood. He was attacked by a crowd of drunken telegraph linemen, simply because of his color, and because he attempted to defend himself—none of the attacking party being badly cut—they hunted him from place to place until he dropped dead from fright and exhaustion. His body was kicked and maltreated even after his friends put him in a rough coffin. The authorities of the town of Danielsonville were powerless to prevent the sacrilege. The rioters held possession of the place, and performed a mock funeral. Amidst the blasphemous orgies were scenes that would have disgraced the most rabid Mississippi locality.

Among her irers were Aaron Wiesner and John McMa admirers were Aaron Wiesner and John McMay, the former of whom some time ago married the gushing widow. He soon ascertained, however, that his bride was never lonely during his occasional absences, as she was then visited by MeMay. He told her that he had business in Atlanta which would take several days, and went into ambush. An exchange of notes soon brought the festive McMay to the faithless wife, who met him with a smile and a kiss. While their lips still tingled the enraged husband rushed upon them, exclaiming, "Prepare to die!" His revolver snapped, whereupon his wife attempted to take the weapon away. He wrenched it from her grasp and fired, the shot passing through McMay's heart. Wiesner made his escape to the woods and has not been found. The Recent Election in Louisiana.

PREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may essense many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves.
